

PHILOSOPHY

The MAFP is happy to present this annual event, in an effort to effectively combine the enjoyable leisure and recreation of skiing with a meaningful continuing medical educational program. Your attendance at the meeting sessions is essential if we are to continue this event.

While we have been proud of the quality of the formal talks, panels, demonstrations, etc. of previous years, we feel the maximum benefit comes from the INDIVIDUAL, informal discussion that takes place between the attending physician and the speaker — on the ski hill or chair lift, in the lounge or in the dining room. Therefore, we encourage you to make the maximum use of these speakers while they are here. They all have much more to offer than can be contained in their brief formal presentation.

HISTORY

In the fall of 1958 two physicians met again while attending the western Surgical Society meeting in Salt Lake City. The Montana doctor invited the Minneapolis doctor to come to Montana and give a talk. The first in January 1959, was located at The Big Mountain in Whitefish, so that the initial speaker, Dr. Car Rice (late editor of Minnesota Medicine) could enjoy some skiing during his visit.

Thus began an annual event of skiing physicians migrating to this northern Rocky Mountain ski resort to combine daytime recreation with evening continuing education programs. The meetings were small and informal, and the accommodations in the original Chalet included only one room with a private bath. The jovial atmosphere initially engendered by standing in line to use the facilities at the end of the hall persists today.

Since the speakers were not paid, and there were no other expenses, no registration fees or dues were required. The group call themselves the "Big Mountain Medical Association." Interest grew and skiing physicians began arriving from throughout the country, rather than just those who practiced along the Great Northern Railroad line. Many made it an annual event, and several Flathead County Medical Society members took turns being Program Chairman. Since 1965 the meeting has been officially sponsored by the Montana Academy of Family Physicians.

The Lodge at Whitefish Lake is a full service resort/ spa/ conference center along the shores of Whitefish Lake. Just a 15 minute drive to skiing on Big Mountain, the lodge offers fantastic comfort and a convenient location to downtown Whitefish restaurants and nightlife.
